prospect hill country day school

1875 - 1958

We have reached a milestone in our lives and before departing into new experiences, we pause a moment and look back to P. H. S. and all that it stands for. Through the years we have grown to understand what the name "Prospect Hill" means — to each of us, something different, something wonderful to carry away in our memories.

And so we take one last look before we leave — a last look into our past that will help to make the future a brighter one. We know so well that we shall never forget our days here. Thus we bid our fond farewell to Prospect Hill.

Miss Marguerite Smith, co-headmistress of Prospect Hill Country Day School, passed away on Saturday, November 30, 1958, after a long illness.

For more years than she laughingly said she cared to remember, Miss Smith devoted her life to Prospect Hill. She never lost her youthful perspective and her subtle sense of humor. One of her former students recently said, "She never appeared to, but she always knew what we were doing. Her sensitivity to her students was outstanding."

With Miss Smith's death, Prospect Hill loses not only an outstanding teacher and an able administrator, but a staunch friend. Her undying spirit shall live on in the hearts of those who knew and loved her.

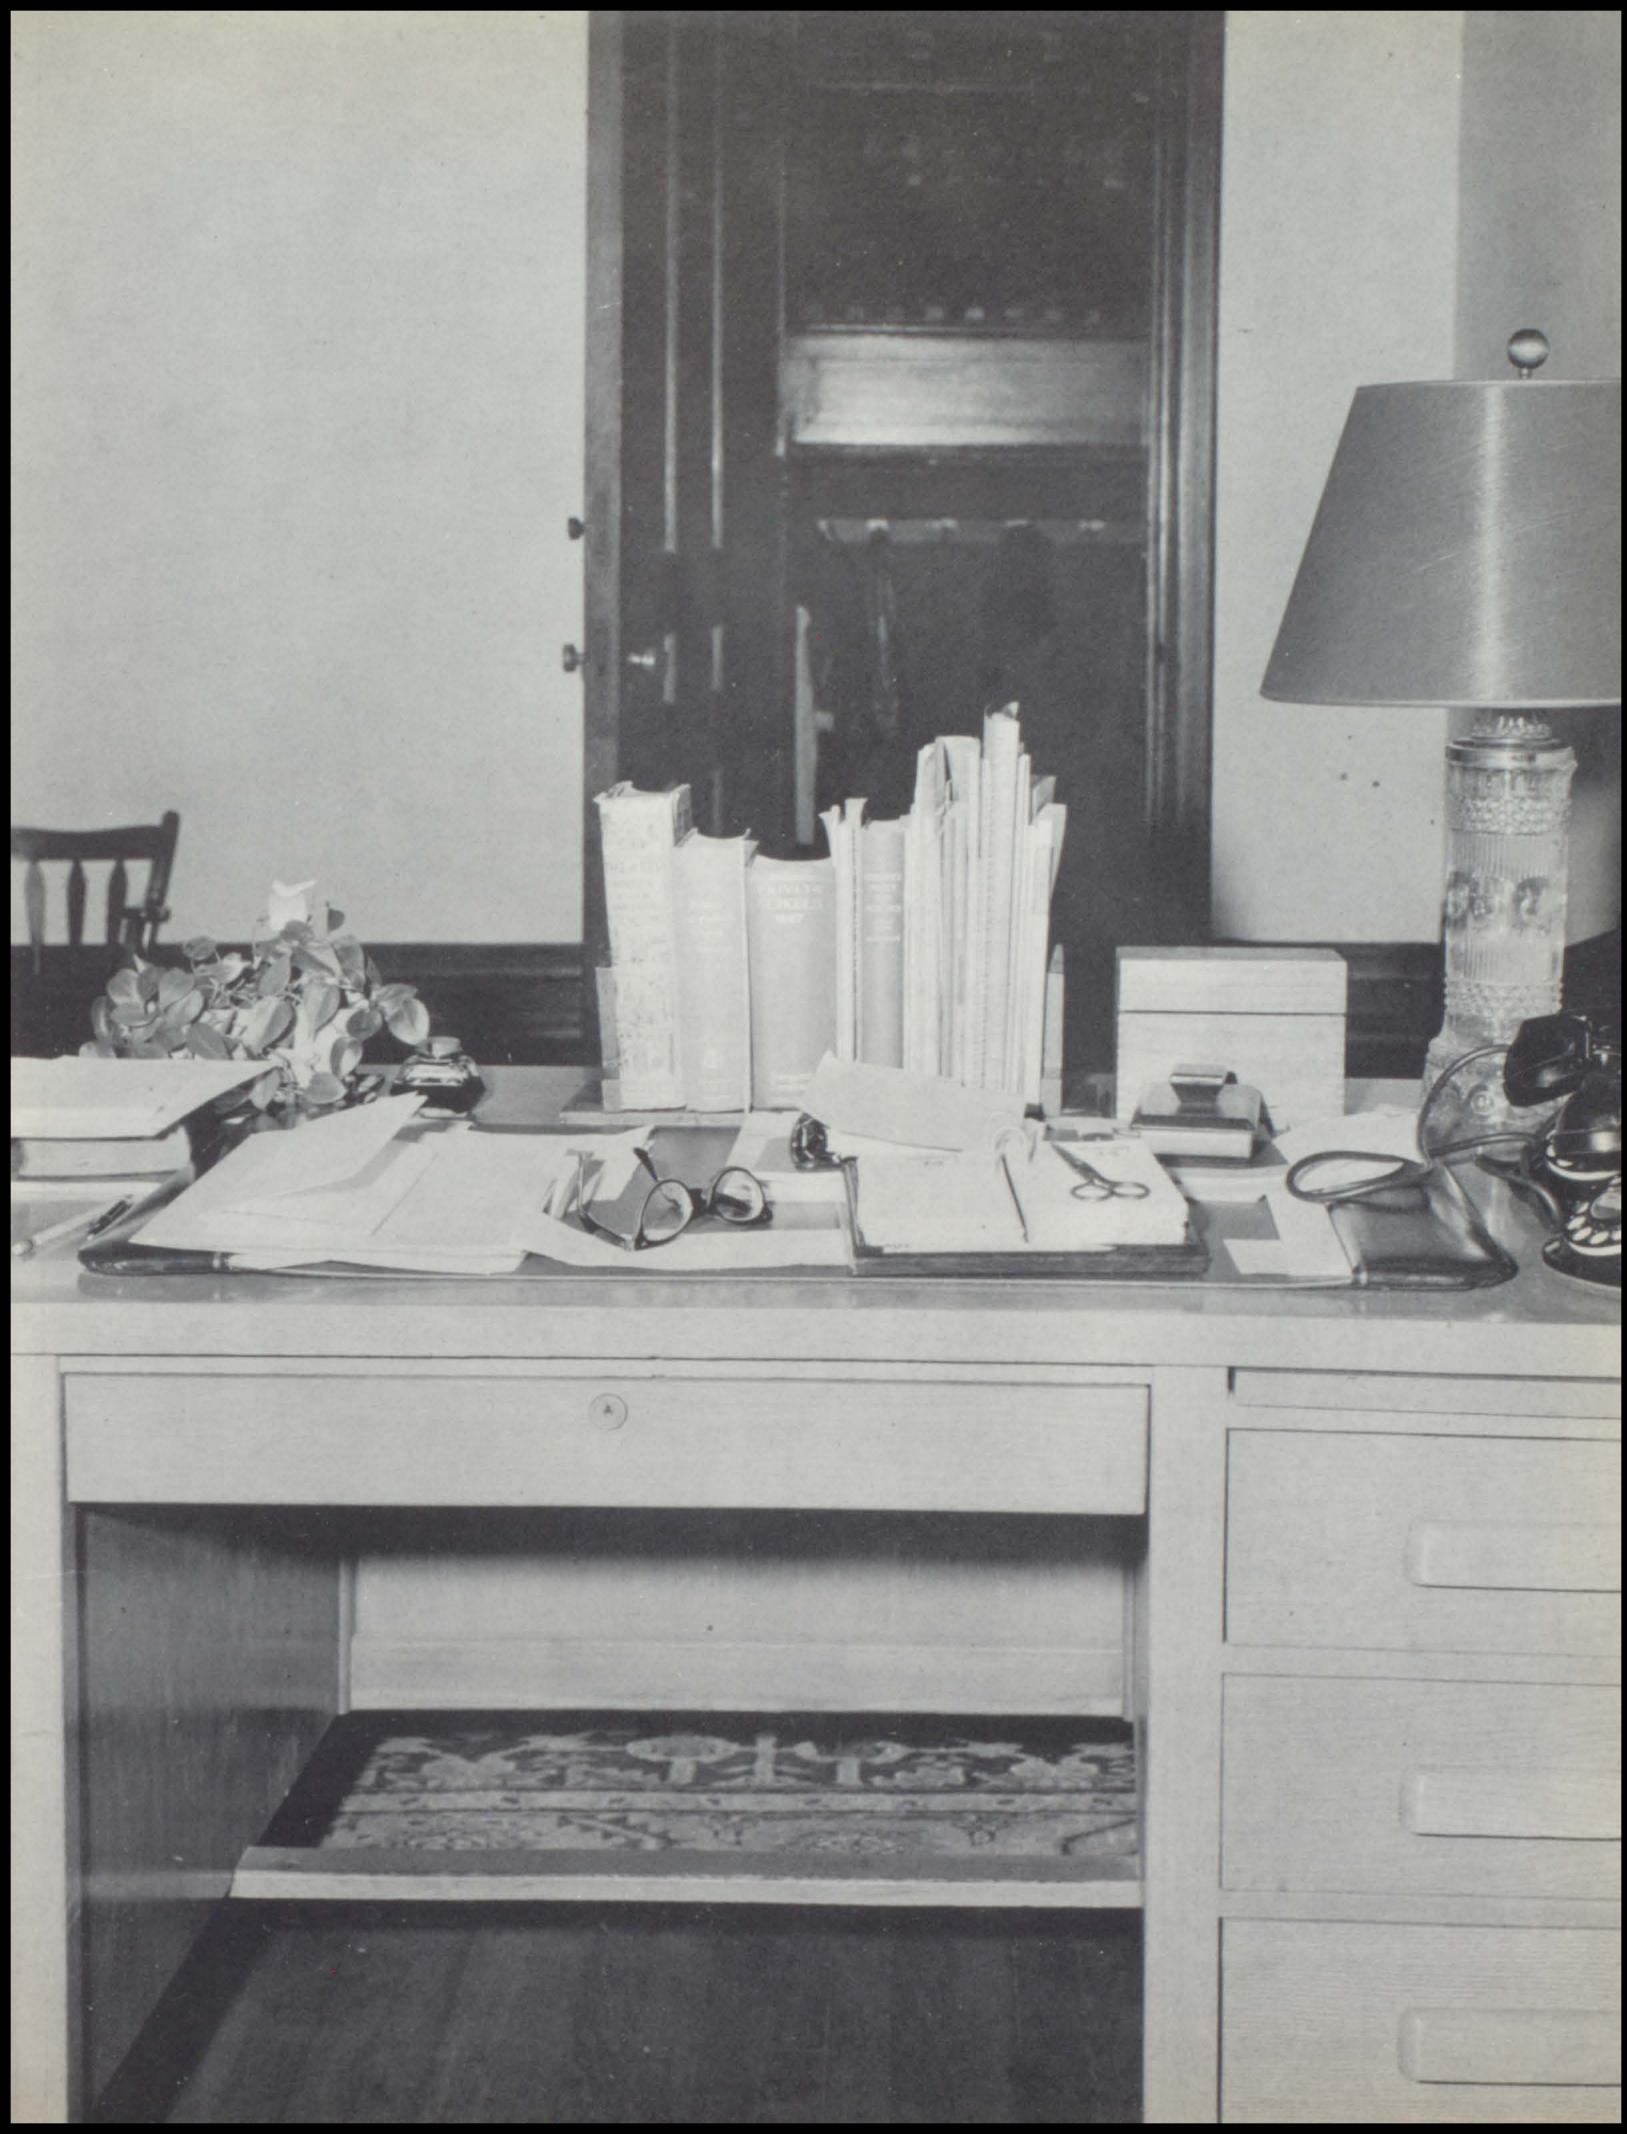

To Margaret Rose Brill, whose patience, understanding, and keen sense of wit have guided each of us in our senior year. To one who has stood by us through all our problems and has served as a true friend when we needed her most, for this, we, the Class of 1958, dedicate this our yearbook.

CLASS PROPHECY

The date is June, 1984. The place is the Third Presbyterian Church in Newark, New Jersey. There are a great many people present — each with his Big Brother. We see a group of about fifteen people together and upon moving closer we hear and see the following:

"Why Pat Allen, how good to see you." It seems that Pat has just returned from her latest exhibit in Paris. She is running a close second to Picasso and her work is world renowned. "Will we really be able to see your work at the Modern Museum next month?" Who is she talking to? It's Barbara Kramer and Fran Steinman. Barbara has joined the Waves and is chief surgeon on the medical staff. She and her husband are stationed in Tucson, Arizona. Fran and Murray are busy building hi-fi sets and teaching their five adorable children how to read.

All heads turn to see a black limousine complete with a chauffeur, slightly resembling Sammy Davis, Jr., pull up. Our little star, Joyce Di Biase, alights, making her usual grand entrance. It seems that they were able to get an understudy to play opposite Rex tonight. Judie Katz, with two little children following her, runs up to greet Joyce. She explains that she is quite busy in the process of closing the Park Avenue penthouse for the summer and opening their quite princely mansion on the Riviera. Judie surprised everyone by telling them that she had just received her Ph.D. from Harvard.

Pat had just said that Leslie and Erika are arriving, and sure enough, they are driving down Ridge Street in Leslie's white Jag at a mere 150 mph. Erika looks a bit underconfident about the brakes. Leslie tells us that she has been doing some metallurgical work lately. Erika has stuck quite closely to her teaching and her 6' 3" husband. By the way Erika was the first of our class of '58 to be married.

Marge Farkas appeared from around the corner with her pet monkey holding one hand and her husband holding the other. Walking with them were Barbara Ferri and Mike. Barbara told everybody that she was quite happy. This next month she will appear on the cover of "Vogue". She also reported that the Bonomo Drive-In has lost its popularity since 1958. Marge, who is living in the Village, has just published her first novel and has been doing some extra work for I.B.M. in her spare time.

Everybody is going into the church and we had better do so too, if we don't want to miss the Prospect Hill graduation of the class of 1984.
